Community Celebration, Sept. 29-Oct. 1

So, What is Goose Day?

This local tradition has been observed in the Juniata River Valley for more than two centuries. Carried here by an early local settler, legend has it that if you eat goose on St. Michaelmas Day, locally known as Goose Day, you will never want for money all the year round. Believers of this tradition adhere faithfully and eat goose every September 29th, thus ensuring wealth and prosperity for the coming year.

What do blackberries have to do with Goose Day?

Goose Day is the American version of Michaelmas, a Christian festival observed on September 29. It honors Archangel Michael for defeating Satan in the war in heaven. It is said that when St. Michael threw the devil from heaven, he fell from the skies and landed in a prickly blackberry bush. Satan cursed the fruit so that they would be unfit for eating. Folklore suggests that Michaelmas Day is the last day to eat blackberries.

Commemorative Goose Day postmark

A special commemorative pictorial postmark is designed every year by Ryan Cherry to provide a unique souvenir to mark each year's local holiday. The design is available ONLY on Goose Day at the Lewistown Post Office. Stop by on Sept. 29th and request any of your outgoing mail to be stamped with the Goose Day postmark for free.

Send postcards to family and friends to spread the fun

As an added bonus, have the postmark stamped on a Goose Day postcard. The pre-stamped postcards, spotlighting artwork by artist Julie Rigatti, can be purchased for $5 in-person starting Sept. 1st at East End Coffee Co., both shop locations, The Crooked Shelf Bookshop, Friendship Bookstore, and the Juniata River Valley Visitors Bureau office.

Once purchased, the buyer can fill out the back of the postcard and return the card to the shop owner. On Goose Day, the postcards will be picked up, taken to the Lewistown Post Office where the postmark will be applied and then mailed out.

Artwork by Julie Rigatti

This year's postcard was specifically created in black & white so that you can color in the postcard.
